

Call for papers: International Workshop

“Todo mundo es composto de mudança”

A competition for young scholars: three empirical papers in electoral behaviour, social stratification and developmental psychology

May 12th 2016, University of Trento, Department of Sociology and Social Research

On May the 12th 2016, the Department of Sociology and Social Research of the University of Trento organizes an international workshop in honour of Hans Schadee, upon his retirement after almost 4 decades of intense research and teaching activity in Italian universities. The workshop will testify the general importance of Professor Schadee's input for the progress of Italian quantitative social and political science.

A key component of his work has been his generous and inspiring teaching to undergraduate and PhD students, and his remarkable effort in the training many generations of young Italian social and political scientists. Acknowledging this effort, and his success, we issue a call for papers reserved to young scholars (aged < 35) who are active in one of the main research fields of Professor Schadee:

electoral behaviour,
social stratification,
developmental psychology

Three papers will be invited for presentation during the Workshop and discussed by senior scholars in the field. Accommodation and meals will be provided. Papers should be sent by April 1st 2016 to the following email address: gabriele.ballarino@unimi.it. Papers should be sent in journal paper style and need to be accompanied by bio note of the author(s) and a brief motivation letter stating why the author(s) feel to participate to the workshop. Selected authors will be notified by April the 10th.

The organising committee for information: <http://r.unitn.it/en/soc/csis/todo-mundo> gabriele.ballarino@unimi.it; stefani.scherer@unitn.it

